ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Ministry of Environment, Lands and Parks wishes to acknowledge three partners whose contributions were invaluable in the completion of the Aboriginal Water Rights Report Series:

> The Ministry of Aboriginal Affairs, was a critical source of funding, support and direction for this project.
> The U-Vic Geography Co-op Program, was instrumental in providing the staffing resources needed to undertake this challenging task. Through the services of June Whitmore and her office, the project benefited from the research, writing, editing and co-ordination of these outstanding students:

Jas Gill
Julie Steinhauer
Kelly Babcock
Daniella Mogus
Miranda Griffith
Christina Rocha
Rachel Abrams
Elizabeth Lee
Sara Cheevers

> The services of Clover Point Cartographics Limited of Victoria, was responsible for the preparation of most of the map drawings, which form a valuable part of these documents.

In addition to these three key partners, I must acknowledge the valuable contributions of other Water Management staff, past and present, including Jack Farrell, Jim Mattison, Richard Penner, Diana Jolly, Greg Blaney, Gary Lucas and Kim Johnston.

The sheer numbers of First Nations groups' with histories of water rights made the completion of the Report Series seem, at times, prolonged. The determination, patience and vision of the partners was essential in the completion of the Series and is gratefully acknowledged.

The Boston Bar Reserves occur in the Interior Douglas Fir Biogeoclimatic Zone. This zone is the second warmest forest zone in the Province. Douglas Fir is the dominant tree type. These reserves lie at elevations ranging from 200 to 2600 feet above mean sea level, and experience a climate in which average daily temperatures range from lows of -5 degrees centigrade in January, to highs in the order of 20 degrees centigrade, in July. Annual rainfall for the area averages between 50 and 100 centimeters.

Water courses of significance include:

- Annie Spring: located on the southeast corner of Boston Bar 1A.

WATER ALLOCATIONS:

With respect to the Boston Bar First Nation there are no records of water allocations made by Order-in-Council of Lieutenant Governor in Council.

The water rights of the Band have been determined by four actions of government over the years:

1) Allotments by Indian Reserve Commissioners.

   Following confederation, the Province and the Dominion established an Indian Reserve Commission to reserve lands for the Indians and to facilitate the transfer of the lands in question to Dominion authority. In setting apart lands for reserves, the Reserve Commissioners made it their practice to allot water with in conjunction with lands. This practice was unique among Indian Reserves in Canada and the authority of the Commissioners to allot water rights has been disputed by the Province since.

2) Determinations of the Board of Investigation under the Water Act, 1914 with respect to claims filed by the Department of Indian Affairs. Often in it's rulings the Board recommended the issue of water licences.

3) The issue of water licences in response to Federal Government applications requesting authorization for the use of water on reserve lands.

4) Actions to amend, cancel or record as abandoned, licenced rights pursuant to provisions contained in the Water Act.

HISTORY, CURRENT STATUS AND NOTES:

The history of water rights, the current status of rights, and notes for the Boston Bar Band with respect to Annie Spring, Bilow Creek, Bucktum Creek, Captain Brook, Centre Creek, Hallecks Creek, Kopchitchin Creek, Ryan Creek, Scaucy Creek, and Tuckkwiochum Springs, are as follows:

Annie Spring:

History:

Nov 20, 1934 In accordance with an application made by the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Boston Bar Band, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 12280. The licence was assigned a precedence date of October 16, 1933 and authorizes the diversion of 27.5 acre feet, from April 1 to September 30, from Annie Spring for irrigation purpose. The appurtenant lands are specified as 15 acres of Boston Bar Reserve No. 1A.

Jan 27, 1937 A letter from Comptroller of Water Rights stated that Conditional Water Licence 12280 had been abandoned by the Indian Department on December 13, 1936.

Current Status:

There are no recorded licences on Annie Spring.

The Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Annie Spring. No alternative sources of current information on water availability on the Spring were located during the course of this review.

Notes:

1. The abandonment of Conditional Water Licence 12280 by the Indian Department resulted in the loss of all licensed rights on Annie Spring for Boston Bar Reserve No. 1A. There is no indication on file that the Boston Bar Band was notified of the abandonment or asked of their intentions regarding this licence.

Buckturn Creek:

History:

Jun 1, 1878 A Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission allocated the following for the Boston Bar Band for use on Bucktum Reserve No. 4:

> "100 inches of water are assigned for irrigation and other purposes from all available sources of water supply which on survey, may be found to be available, and in particular from the creek flowing upon the land from a spring in a direction near the south end of Butcher Flat...."*

*Note: The reference to an inch of water is understood to be a "miner's inch" of water. The Water Act of 1914 defined a miner's inch as being equal to a flow of .028 cubic feet per second. This rate of flow calculated over a 120 day irrigation season converts to the equivalent 6.664 acre feet for each miner's inch.

Note: Butcher Flat is currently recognized as Bucktum 4.

Bucktum Creek flows through the southeast corner of Bucktum 4.

Jun 10, 1920 At a final hearing before the Board of Investigation, acting pursuant to the Water Act of 1914, the Board determined that on the 26th day of September, 1888, there was filed in the office of the Dominion Lands Agent at New Westminster, B.C., a bona fide application for a record of water from Bucktum Creek, for use on Bucktum Reserve No. 4. The Order of the Board, numbered 6544, set out that a conditional licence should be issued which would:

(i) provide for the diversion of water from Bucktum Creek,
(ii) take precedence from September 26, 1888,
(iii) authorize the diversion of a maximum of 84.4 acre feet per year for irrigation of 42.2 acres of Bucktum Reserve No. 4, provided that 500 gallons per day, throughout the year, could also be used for domestic purpose.

Dec 15, 1920 In response to an application made by H. Graham, Indian Agent, on behalf of the Boston Bar Band, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 5277. The licence was assigned a precedence date of July 14, 1920 and authorizes the diversion of 70 acre feet, from April 1 to September 30, from Bucktum Creek for irrigation purpose. Of this amount, 500 gallons of water per day could be used for domestic purpose. The appurtenant land is specified as 23.7 acres of Boston Bar Reserve No. 4A.

Oct 22, 1923 The Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 7145, which embodied the terms and conditions set out in Board Order 6544.

Jan 19, 1926 A letter written by the Indian Commissioner for B.C. stated that:

> "...the above mentioned licence [Conditional Water Licence 5277] should be canceled, as the land is not now an Indian Reserve. In explanation, I may say that the reserve was created in 1910, but as the two Indians for whom it was allotted died about the year 1917, the Department of the Interior was informed in 1921 that this Department had no further claim upon it for the Indians. The land, therefore, reverted to the Crown in right of the Dominion Government..."

Jan 21, 1926 In accordance with the letter from Indian Commissioner for B.C. dated January 19, 1926, the Assistant to Comptroller recorded Conditional Water Licence 5277 as abandoned.

Nov 20, 1934 Based on the extent to which the rights granted under Conditional licence 7145, were exercised, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Final Water Licence 9023, in substitution, to the Superintendent General of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Boston Bar Band. The licence was given a date of precedence of September 26, 1888 and authorized the diversion of 60 acre feet, from April 1 to September 30, from Bucktum Creek, for irrigation purposes on 60 acres of Bucktum Reserve No. 4. Of this amount, 500 gallons per day, year-round was authorized for domestic use.

Current Status:

Final Water Licence 9023 is the only licence active on Bucktum Creek.

The Engineer's Report for Final Water Licence 9023, dated December 12, 1933, noted that Bucktum Creek flow was not greater than one cubic foot per second and noted the creek as a fully recorded source. However, the Water Licencing System does not indicate that Bucktum Creek is fully recorded.

The Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Bucktum Creek.

Notes:

1. The Boston Bar Band's rights to water, as allocated in 1878 by the Indian Reserve Commission, have not been formally recognized by the Province.
2. The issue of Final Water Licence 9023, in substitution of Conditional Water Licence 7145, resulted in a reduction of licensed water rights for the Boston Bar Band on Bucktum Creek.
3. Bucktum Creek was noted as fully recorded in an Engineer's report dated 1933.
4. The abandonment of Conditional Water Licence 5277 by Indian Commissioner of B.C. resulted in a loss of licensed rights on Bucktum Creek for Boston Bar Reserve No. 4A. However, Boston Bar 4A is no longer designated reserve land.

Captain Brook & Bilow Creek:

History:

Nov 20, 1934 In accordance with an application made by the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs, on behalf of the Boston Bar Band, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licences 12277 and 12278. The licences were given a precedence date of October 11, 1933 and authorized diversion of 25 acre feet, from April 1 to September 30, from Captain Brook (Conditional Licence 12277) and Bilow Creek (Conditional Licence 12278) for irrigation purpose. The land to which these licences were appurtenant was specified as 20 acres of Tuckkwiochum Reserve No. 1.

Nov 20, 1934	In accordance with an application made by the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Boston Bar Band, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 12279. The licence has a precedence date of October 16, 1933 and authorizes the diversion of 10 acre feet, from April 1 to September 30, from Captain Brook for irrigation purpose. The appurtenant lands are defined as 15 acres of Boston Bar Reserve No. 1A.
Jan 27, 1937	A letter from Comptroller of Water Rights stated that Conditional Water Licence 12278 had been abandoned by the Indian Department. Further information regarding the abandonment was not locate on file.
Jan 15, 1942	Based on the extent to which rights granted under Conditional Licences 12279 and 12277, were exercised, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Final Water Licence 11568, in substitution of both licences, to the Director of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Boston Bar Band. Final Water Licence 11568 has a precedence date of October 11, 1933 and authorizes the diversion of 21.25 acre feet, from April 1 to September 30, from Captain Brook, for irrigation purposes on 8.5 acres of Tuckkwiochum Reserve No. 1 and Boston Bar Reserve No 1A.

Current Status:

Captain Brook:

Final Water Licence 11568, for the use and benefit of the Boston Bar Band, is the only licence active on Captain Brook.

The Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Captain Brook and no other current information regarding water availability on the Brook was located.

Bilow Creek:

There are no licences on Bilow Creek for the benefit of the Boston Bar Band.

Final Water Licence 13441 is currently the only licence active on Bilow Creek. The licence is held by a third party and authorizes the use of 1,000 gallons of water per day for domestic purpose and 3 acre feet of water a year for irrigation purpose.

The Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Bilow Creek.

Notes:

1. The issue of Final Water Licence 11568, in substitution of Conditional Water Licence 12279, resulted in a reduction of licensed water rights for the Boston Bar Band on Captain Brook and Bilow Creek.
2. The abandonment of Conditional Water Licence 12278 by the Indian Department resulted in the loss of all licensed rights on Bilow Creek for the Boston Bar Band on Tuckkwiowhum Reserve No. 1. There is no indication on file that the Boston Bar Band was notified of the abandonment or asked of their intentions regarding this license.

Kopchitchin, Centre, & Hallecks Creek:

History:

Jun 1, 1878 A Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission allocated the following for the Boston Bar Band for use on Kopchitchin Reserve No. 2:

> "200 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from all sources of water supply which, on survey, may be found available and also one half of the whole quantity of water in the stream which flows partly through Mr. Peter Pink's land and partly through the reserve."

*Note: The reference to an inch of water is understood to be a "miner's inch" of water. The Water Act of 1914 defined a miner's inch as being equal to a flow of .028 cubic feet per second. This rate of flow calculated over a 120 day irrigation season converts to the equivalent 6.664 acre feet for each miner's inch.

Jun 10, 1920 At a final hearing of the Board of Investigation, acting pursuant to the Water Act of 1914, the Board determined that on the 26th day of September, 1888, there was filed in the office of the Dominion Lands Agent at New Westminster, B.C., a bona fide application for a record of water from Hallecks Creek, a creek* in the centre of Kopchitchin 2 and a creek at the south end of Kopchitchin 2, for use on Kopchitchin Reserve No. 2. The Order of the Board, numbered 6751, set out that a conditional licence should be issued which would:

(i) provide for the diversion of water from Hallecks Creek, a creek in centre of Kopchitchin Reserve and a creek at south end of said Reserve,
(ii) take precedence from September 26, 1888,
(iii) authorize the diversion of a maximum of 247 acre feet per year for irrigation of 165 acres of Kopchitchin Reserve No.2, provided that 3,000 gallons per day, throughout the year, could also be used for domestic purpose.

*Note: The creek identified in the centre of Kopchitchin 2 is currently recognized as Centre Creek and the creek located at the south end is known as Kopchitchin Creek.

May 28, 1921 The Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 5587, which embodied the terms and conditions set out in Board Order 6751.

May 20, 1938 Based on the extent to which the rights granted under the Conditional Licence 5587 were exercised, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued three Final Water Licences, 10287, 10286 and 10287, in substitution:

i. Final Licence 10287 was given a date of precedence of September 26, 1888 and authorizes the diversion of 46 acre feet, from April 1 to September 30, from Kopchitchin Creek, for irrigation purpose on 23 acres of Kopchitchin Reserve No. 2. Of this amount, 1,000 gallons per day, year-round, is authorized for domestic use.

ii. Final Water Licence 10286 was given a date of precedence of September 26, 1888 and authorizes the diversion of 34 acre feet, from April 1 to September 30, from Centre Creek, for irrigation purpose on 17 acres of Kopchitchin Reserve No. 2. Of this amount, 1,000 gallons per day, year-round, is authorized for domestic use.

iii. Final Water Licence 10285 was assigned a date of precedence of September 26, 1888 and authorizes the diversion of 62 acre feet, from April 1 to September 30, from Hallecks Creek, for irrigation purpose on 31 acres of Kopchitchin Reserve No. 2. Of this amount, 1,000 gallons per day, year-round, may also be for domestic use.

May 16, 1966 In response to an application filed by the Indian Affairs Branch on behalf of the Boston Bar Band, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 30976. The licence was assigned a precedence date of July 30, 1965 and authorizes diversion of 10,000 gallons per day from Centre Creek for waterworks purpose. The land to which this licence is appurtenant is Kopchitchin Reserve No. 2.

May 30, 1966 In accordance with an Application for Change of Works made on behalf of the Boston Bar Band, the Deputy Comptroller of Water Rights issued an Order embodying a change of works for Final Water Licence 10285.

May 31, 1991 In accordance with an Application for Change of Works made on behalf of the Boston Bar Band, the Regional Water Manager issued an Order embodying the change of works for Final Water Licence 30976.

Current Status:

Kopchitchin Creek:

Final Water Licence 10287, for the use and benefit of the Boston Bar Band, is the only licence active on Kopchitchin Creek.

The Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Kopchitchin Creek. No alternative sources of current water availability data were located during the course of this review.

Centre Creek:

Final Water Licence 10266 and Conditional Water Licence 30976 are currently the only two licences active on Centre Creek. Both licences are registered for the use and benefit of the Boston Bar Band.

The Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Centre Creek.

Hallecks Creek:

There are currently thirteen licences active on Hallecks Creek, one of which is held by the Boston Bar Band. Of these licences:

- 13 authorize the use of water for domestic purpose, ranging from 500 to 2,000 gallons per day.
- 1 authorizes the use of 62 acre feet of water for irrigation purpose.

*Note: A single licence may authorize use and diversion for multiple purposes.

The Boston Bar Band holds Final Water Licence 10285, which is first in priority on Hallecks Creek.

The Engineer's Report completed in support of Final Water Licences 10285, 10286 and 10287, dated December 11, 1933, noted that after the spring freshet, Hallecks, Centre and Kopchitchin Creeks are fully recorded. However, the Water Licencing System does not show these creeks as fully recorded.

Notes:

1. The Boston Bar Band's prior right to water allotted by the Indian Reserve Commission has not been formally recognized by the Province.
2. The issuance of Final Water Licences 10285, 10286, and 10287 (which substituted Conditional Water Licence 5587) resulted in the reduction of licensed water rights for the Boston Bar Band.
3. Hallecks, Centre and Kopchitchin Creeks were noted as fully recorded in an Engineer's Report dated December 11, 1933.
4. The Centre Creek drainage area has been designated a Community Watershed under the Forest Practices Code.

Ryan Creek & Tuckkwiowhum Springs:

History:

Jun 1, 1878 A Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission allocated the following for the Boston Bar Band for use on Tuckkwiochum Reserve No. 1:

> " 100 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from any sources of water supply which on survey may be found available. The Indian rights to be prior to all others."

*Note: The reference to an inch of water is understood to be a "miner's inch" of water. The Water Act of 1914 defined a miner's inch as being equal to a flow of .028 cubic feet per second. This rate of flow calculated over a 120 day irrigation season converts to the equivalent 6.664 acre feet for each miner's inch.

Jun 10, 1920 At a final hearing of the Board of Investigation, acting pursuant to the Water Act of 1914, the Board determined that on the 26th day of September, 1888, there was filed in the office of the Dominion Lands Agent at New Westminster, B.C., a bona fide application for a record of water from unnamed springs (Tuckkwiowhum Springs) and Ryan Creek, for use on Tuckkwiowhum Reserve No. 1. The Order of the Board, numbered 6626, set out that a conditional licence should be issued which would:

(i) provide for the diversion of water from Tuckkwiowhum Springs and Ryan Creek,
(ii) take precedence from September 26, 1888,
(iii) authorize the diversion of a maximum of 90 acre feet per year for irrigation of 60 acres of Tuckkwiowhum Reserve No. 1, provided that 2,500 gallons per day, throughout the year, could also be used for domestic purpose.

Nov 3, 1924 The Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 7790, which embodied the terms and conditions set out in Board Order 6626.

Nov 20, 1934 Based on the extent that the rights granted under the Conditional Licence 7790 were exercised, the Comptroller of Water Rights issued Final Water Licence 9025, in substitution, to the Superintendent-General of Indian Affairs on behalf of the Boston Bar Band. The licence was given a date of precedence of September 26, 1888 and authorizes the diversion of 15 acre feet, from April 1 to September 30, from Tuckkwiowhum Springs, for irrigation purpose on 10 acres of Tuckkwiowhum Reserve No. 1. Of this amount, 1,000 gallons per day, year-round, may also be for domestic use.

An Engineer's Report for Final Water Licence 9025 noted that water was only being diverted from the springs and that Ryan Creek wasn't being used as a source.

Current Status:

Ryan Creek:

There are currently no licences active on Ryan Creek.

The Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Ryan Creek. No other current source of water availability information for the Creek were located during this course of this review.

Tuckkwiowhum Springs:

Final Water Licence 9025, for the use and benefit of the Boston Bar Band, is currently the only licence active on Tuckkwiowhum Springs.

The Engineer's Report completed in support of Final Licence 9025, dated December 12, 1933, noted Tuckkwiowhum Springs as fully recorded.

The Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Tuckkwiowhum Springs.

Notes:

1. The Boston Bar First Nation's rights to the water of Ryan Creek and Tuckkwiowhum Springs, as allocated by the Indian Reserve Commission in 1878, have not been formally recognized by the Province.
2. The issue of Final Water Licence 9025 in substitution of Conditional Water Licence 7790, resulted in a reduction of licensed water rights for the Boston Bar Band on Ryan Creek and Tuckkwiowhum Springs.
3. The Water Licencing Information System notes Tuckkwiowhum Springs as fully recorded.

Scaucy (Scuzzy) Creek:

History:

Jun 1, 1878 A Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission described a reserve (Scaucy 5) near Skahzoege Falls and allocated the following for the use of the Boston Bar Band:

> "50 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from any sources of water supply which, on survey, may be found available."*

*Note: The reference to an inch of water is understood to be a "miner's inch" of water. The Water Act of 1914 defined a miner's inch as being equal to a flow of .028 cubic feet per second. This rate of flow calculated over a 120 day irrigation season converts to the equivalent 6.664 acre feet for each miner's inch.

Jun 11, 1920 At a final hearing before the Board of Investigation, acting pursuant to the Water Act of 1914, the Board determined that on the 26th day of September, 1888, there was filed in the office of the Dominion Lands Agent at New Westminster, B.C., a bona fide application for a record of water from Scaucy* Creek, for use on Scaucy Reserve No. 5. The Order of the Board, numbered 6645, set out that a conditional licence should be issued which would:

(i) provide for the diversion of water from Scaucy Creek,
(ii) take precedence from September 26, 1888,
(iii) authorize the diversion of a maximum of 6 acre feet per year for irrigation of 2.2 acres of Scaucy Reserve No. 2, provided that 500 gallons per day, throughout the year, could also be used for domestic purpose.

*Note: Scaucy Creek has been renamed Scuzzy Creek.

Apr 24, 1924 The Comptroller of Water Rights issued Conditional Water Licence 7504, which embodied the terms and conditions set out in Board Order 6645.

Feb 2, 1935 The Comptroller of Water Rights issued an Order, in accordance with the notice of proposed cancellation dated November 26, 1934, which canceled Conditional Water Licence 7504 .

The file corresponding to Conditional Water Licence 7504 was destroyed in 1945 and as a result, further information pertinent to the cancellation of this licence is not available.

Current Status:

There is currently one licence active on Scuzzy Creek which authorizes the use of 147.26 cubic feet per second of water, for power-general purpose. The licence is held by the Boston Bar Limited Partnership.

Order in Council No. 1199 on Scuzzy Creek was issued on July 23, 1992. This OIC states that Scuzzy Creek and its tributaries are reserved for the use of the Crown to maintain a flow in Scuzzy Creek for the protection of the fishery resource.

The Water Survey of Canada has no records of streamflow on Scuzzy Creek

Notes:

1. The Boston Bar Band's rights to the waters of Scuzzy Creek, as allocated by the Indian Reserve Commission in 1878, have not been formally recognized by the Province.
2. The water rights held by the Boston Bar Band under Conditional Water Licence 7504 on Scaucy (Scuzzy) Creek were canceled in 1935. Details surrounding the cancellation of the licence are unknown as the associated file was destroyed in 1945.

4 MILE CREEK

History:

Jun 1, 1878 A Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission described a reserve of 20 acres named 4 Mile Creek and allocated the following for the use of the Boston Bar Band:

> "20 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from all sources of water supply which, on survey, may be found available."*

*Note: The reference to an inch of water is understood to be a "miner's inch" of water. The Water Act of 1914 defined a miner's inch as being equal to a flow of .028 cubic feet per second. This rate of flow calculated over a 120 day irrigation season converts to the equivalent 6.664 acre feet for each miner's inch.

There is no information available to determine the location of the 4 Mile Creek Reserve. However, there is evidence of a 4 Mile Creek existing north of Boston Bar on Boothroyd Reserve No. 5B.

Notes:

1. The Boston Bar Band's water rights appurtenant to the 4 Mile Creek Reserve, as allocated by the Indian Reserve Commission in 1878, have not been formally recognized by the Province.

2. The appurtenant lands specified in the MOD are no longer classified as reserve lands; the current location of the "4 Mile Creek" reserve is unclear.

AUSTIN'S FLAT 3

History:

Jun 1, 1878 A Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission allocated the following for the use of the Boston Bar Band on land which appears to be Austin's Flat 3:

> "10 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from any sources of water supply which, on survey, may be found available."*

*Note: The reference to an inch of water is understood to be a "miner's inch" of water. The Water Act of 1914 defined a miner's inch as being equal to a flow of .028 cubic feet per second. This rate of flow calculated over a 120 day irrigation season converts to the equivalent 6.664 acre feet for each miner's inch.

This allocation of water was abandoned on November 23, 1925 by the Indian Commissioner for B.C.. Further information pertaining to the Bands position on the abandonment at the time, is not available.

Current Status:

There are currently no licences active on water sources in the vicinity of Austin's Flat Reserve No. 3.

Notes:

1. The Boston Bar Band's prior right to waters in the vicinity of the Austin Flat 3 Reserve, as allocated by the Indian Reserve Commission in 1878, have not been formally recognized by the Province. However, this allocation was abandoned by the Indian Commissioner in 1925.

PAUL'S 6

History:

Jun 1, 1878 A Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission described a reserve near Skahzoege Falls and allocated the following for the use of the Boston Bar Band:

> "5 inches of water are assigned for irrigation and other purposes from any sources of water supply which, on survey, may be found available."*

*Note: The reference to an inch of water is understood to be a "miner's inch" of water. The Water Act of 1914 defined a miner's inch as being equal to a flow of .028 cubic feet per second. This rate of flow calculated over a 120 day irrigation season converts to the equivalent 6.664 acre feet for each miner's inch.

This allocation of water was abandoned on November 23, 1925 by the Indian Commissioner for B.C.. Further information pertaining to the Bands position on the abandonment at the time, is not available.

Current Status:

There are currently no licences active on water sources in the vicinity of Paul's Reserve No. 6.

Notes:

1. The Boston Bar Band's rights to water sources in the vicinity of the Pauls 6 Reserve, as allocated by the Indian Reserve Commission in 1878, have not been formally recognized by the Province. However, this allocation was abandoned by the Indian Commissioner in 1925.

SHRYPTTAHOOKS 7

History:

Jun 1, 1878 A Minute of Decision of the Indian Reserve Commission allocated the following for the use of the Boston Bar Band on a reserve with boundaries similar to Shrypttahooks 7:

> "100 inches of water for irrigation and other purposes are assigned from such sources of water supply as on survey may be found available. The Indian Right to come first."

*Note: The reference to an inch of water is understood to be a "miner's inch" of water. The Water Act of 1914 defined a miner's inch as being equal to a flow of .028 cubic feet per second. This rate of flow calculated over a 120 day irrigation season converts to the equivalent 6.664 acre feet for each miner's inch.

This allocation of water was abandoned on November 23, 1925 by the Indian Commissioner for B.C.. Further information pertaining to the Bands position on the abandonment at the time, is not available.

Current Status:

There are currently no licences active on water sources in the vicinity of Shrypttahooks Reserve No. 7.

Notes:

1. The Boston Bar Band's rights to water sources in the vicinity of the Pauls 6 Reserve, as allocated by the Indian Reserve Commission in 1878, have not been formally recognized by the Province. However, this allocation was abandoned by the Indian Commissioner in 1925.

OTHER INFORMATION:

Additional Water Records:

The Schedule of Indian Reserves in the Dominion, 1913, is a document published by the federal government, recording each Band's water allocations up to 1913. It is believed that the Schedule is a compilation of Minute of Decisions, Order-in-Councils, and perhaps other formal documents. However, as original copies of the documents referenced are unavailable, the dates and information contained in the Schedule cannot be verified.

Allocations in the Schedule of Indian Reserves in the Dominion for the benefit of the Boston Bar Band, which are inconsistent with our findings are:

Reserve Water Allocation

Tuckkwiowhum 1 "100 inches of water recorded from Anderson River, 20 inches* from Ryan Creek and all the water from all other sources of water-supply on the reserve."*

*Note: The reference to an inch of water is understood to be a "miner's inch" of water. The Water Act of 1914 defined a miner's inch as being equal to a flow of .028 cubic feet per second. This rate of flow calculated over a 120 day irrigation season converts to the equivalent 6.664 acre feet for each miner's inch.

Board Order 6526 (Conditional Water Licence 7790) stated that a bona fide application for a record of water from Tuckkwiowhum Springs and Ryan Creek has been used for beneficial purposes. The Boston Bar Band was granted 90 acre feet of water a year. The quantity authorized under the Board Order is less than the amount stated in the Dominion's schedule (800.4 acre feet).

This water record was recorded as abandoned by the Indian Commissioner for B.C. on November 23, 1925.

Groundwater Records:

A review of well records maintained by the MELP - Groundwater Section found that no wells have been reported on any of the Boston Bar Reserves. However, as the provision of this well information to the Groundwater Section is voluntary, this review should not be assumed to be complete.

Alternate Water Sources:

The Boston Bar reserves are in the vicinity of, and could feasibly be connected to, either the City of Abbotsford or the District of Mission municipal water systems. Reports on the water consumption in 1995 indicate that the City of Abbotsford and the District of Mission experienced a peak daily demand in excess of 3,657,347,100 imperial gallons, which is within their authorized maximum daily allowance for waterworks under their licences.

In addition, the Fraser River presents the potential for water supply to all of the reserves for other purposes.

Note

Note

Butcher Flat being a camping place for teams on the waggon road there is to be left between the south boundary of Mr. Flores farm and the north boundary of the reserve a space of several hundred yards in width to enable the animals used on the road to get up the mountains to feed.

The width of the space is to be determined on survey with some reference to getting for the north boundary of the reserve a suitable line for a strong fence which the Indians should make from the mountains to, and along the waggon road so as to protect their reserve against the wandering wandering animals.

If the old Indian graveyard which appears to be near the probable north boundary of Spring Ranch should prove to be within that ranch when surveyed, it should be marked off so as to enable the Indians to enclose it.

100 inches of water are assigned for irrigation and other purposes from all available sources of water supply which, on survey may be found to be available, and in particular from the Creek flowing upon the land from a spring in a direction near the south end of Butcher Flat but situated in the hills on the north east-side of the abandoned pre-emption of J. Gerard also from the 4 mile Creek, or from Chaomeny (Tsakwaw muck, Creek
